

Promises Made: Echoes of a Mother's Unwavering Love

Introduction

I remember the day my daughter Laci disappeared like it was yesterday. The pain was unbearable, the fear suffocating. I couldn't fathom the thought of never seeing her again, of never hearing her laugh, of never holding her in my arms.

At first, I clung to the hope that she would be found alive, that this was all just a terrible mistake. But as the days turned into weeks and the weeks turned into months, that hope began to fade. I knew in my heart that she was gone.

But even though Laci was gone, her memory lived on. I saw her in the faces of my other children, in the laughter of her friends, in the kindness of strangers. She was everywhere and nowhere at the same time.

I couldn't keep her memory locked away in my heart. I needed to share it with the world, to let people know what a beautiful person she was, inside and out. I needed to tell her story, to keep her legacy alive.

And so I wrote this book. It's a story of love, loss, and hope. It's a story about a mother's unwavering love for her child, even in the face of unimaginable tragedy. It's a story about the power of the human spirit to overcome adversity and find healing.

I hope that by sharing my story, I can help others who have experienced loss. I hope that I can help them find hope in the darkness, strength in the face of adversity, and love in the midst of despair.

I hope that Laci's story will inspire others to live their lives to the fullest, to cherish the people they love, and to never give up on their dreams.

Laci, my sweet angel, I will never forget you. I will always love you.
