Chapter 1: Knitting Basics for Dolls

Casting on and binding off

Casting on is the first step in any knitting project, and it's important to do it correctly in order to create a foundation that will support your stitches. There are many different ways to cast on, but the most common method for doll knitting is the long-tail cast on.

To do a long-tail cast on, you'll need to start with a length of yarn that is at least three times the width of your doll's body. Fold the yarn in half and make a slip knot. Place the slip knot on your left-hand needle and hold the two ends of the yarn in your right hand.

Insert the right-hand needle into the slip knot from back to front, and hook the yarn from the back. Pull the hooked yarn through the slip knot and onto the right-hand needle. You now have two stitches on your needle.

Repeat step 3 until you have the desired number of stitches on your needle. The number of stitches you cast on will depend on the size of your doll and the type of garment you are making.

Once you have cast on the desired number of stitches, you can begin knitting. The most basic knit stitch is the garter stitch, which is created by knitting every row. To knit a garter stitch, simply insert the right-hand needle into the first stitch on the left-hand needle from front to back, hook the yarn from the back, and pull the hooked yarn through the stitch and onto the right-hand needle. Slip the old stitch off the left-hand needle.

Repeat step 3 for all of the stitches on the row. Once you have knitted all of the stitches on the row, turn your work and knit the next row in the same way.

Continue knitting until your garment is the desired length. To bind off, knit two stitches and then slip the first stitch over the second stitch. Knit another stitch and slip the first stitch over the second stitch again.

Repeat this process until you have only one stitch left on the needle. Cut the yarn, leaving a tail of about 6 inches, and pull the tail through the last stitch to tighten it.

Casting on and binding off are essential techniques for doll knitting. Once you have mastered these techniques, you'll be able to create beautiful, unique clothes for your favorite dolls.

Knit stitch and purl stitch

The knit stitch and the purl stitch are the two basic stitches used in knitting. They are both very simple to learn, but they can be combined to create a variety of different textures and patterns.

The knit stitch is made by inserting the right-hand needle into the next stitch on the left-hand needle from front to back. The yarn is then hooked onto the right-hand needle and pulled through the stitch. The new stitch is then slipped onto the left-hand needle.

The purl stitch is made by inserting the right-hand needle into the next stitch on the left-hand needle from back to front. The yarn is then hooked onto the right-hand needle and pulled through the stitch. The new stitch is then slipped onto the left-hand needle.

The knit stitch and the purl stitch can be combined in a variety of ways to create different textures and patterns. For example, alternating rows of knit and purl stitches creates a ribbed texture. Knitting two stitches together creates a decrease, while purling two stitches together creates an increase.

These are just a few of the many ways that the knit stitch and the purl stitch can be used to create beautiful and unique knitted fabrics.

Tips for knitting the knit stitch and the purl stitch:

- Keep your tension even. This will help to create a neat and consistent fabric.
- Don't be afraid to make mistakes. Everyone makes mistakes when they are first learning to knit. Just rip out the stitches and try again.
- Practice makes perfect. The more you knit, the better you will become at it.

Troubleshooting:

- If your stitches are too loose, you may need to tighten your tension.

- If your stitches are too tight, you may need to loosen your tension.
- If you are having trouble inserting the needle into the stitch, you may need to use a smaller needle.
- If you are having trouble pulling the yarn through the stitch, you may need to use a larger needle.

With a little practice, you will be able to knit the knit stitch and the purl stitch with ease. These two basic stitches are the foundation for all other knitting stitches, so once you have mastered them, you will be able to create any knitted fabric you can imagine.

Increasing and decreasing

Increasing and decreasing are two essential techniques in doll knitting. Increasing creates new stitches, while decreasing reduces the number of stitches. These techniques are used to shape doll clothes, such as creating the neckline of a sweater or the waist of a skirt.

Increasing

There are several ways to increase stitches. The most common method is to knit into the front and back of the same stitch. This creates two new stitches from one. Another method is to yarn over, which creates a new stitch from thin air. Yarn overs can be used to create lace or other decorative effects.

Decreasing

There are also several ways to decrease stitches. The most common method is to knit two stitches together, which reduces the number of stitches by one. Another method is to slip one stitch over another, which also reduces the number of stitches by one. Decreases can be used to create darts or other shaping details.

Using increasing and decreasing

Increasing and decreasing can be used together to create a variety of shapes. For example, you could increase stitches to create a flared skirt or decrease stitches to create a fitted bodice. You can also use increasing and decreasing to create decorative effects, such as stripes or chevrons.

With a little practice, you'll be able to master increasing and decreasing and use these techniques to create beautiful, unique doll clothes.
